Contents

Preface vii
List of Participants ix
Mathematics in General Education at KAIST
   Ki Hyoung Ko 1
Harnessing the Enthusiasm of our Best and Brightest Students for Mathematics
   Deborah Hughes Hallett 7
Interactive Geometry and Multivariable Calculus on the Internet
   Thomas Banchoff 17
Helping New Mathematics Faculty to Develop into Successful Teachers and Scholars
   Christine Stevens 33
Computer Algebra and Human Algebra
   William G. McCallum 43
Teaching Mathematics Graduate Students to Teach: An International Perspective
   Solomon Friedberg 51
Computers Supporting Mathematical Insight—Two Case Studies
   Erich Neuwirth 57
Mathematics—at your service
   T.M. Mills and Peter Sullivan 63
A Leverage in Learning
   Huriye Arikan 77
Towards Inquiry-Oriented Mathematics Instruction in the University
   Oh Nam Kwon 87
The Influence of Technology on Mathematics Instruction: Concerns and Challenges
   Warren Page 97
Research Experiences with Undergraduates: A discussion from the mathematical educational point of view
   Chi-Kwong Li 111
Problem Solving: What I have learned from my students
   James Sandefur

Guidelines for Using Computers Creatively in Mathematics Education
   Ulrich Kortenkamp

Suggestions from the Real World on Improving Math Education
   Leon H. Seitelman

Spreadsheets in the Mathematics Classroom
   Robert S. Smith

Incorporating MATLAB® into University Mathematics Programs
   Alexander Stanoyevitch

A CAS Supported Environment for Learning and Teaching Calculus
   Elena Varbanova

Experience with Blended Learning: IT Support Inside the Classroom and Beyond
   Gabriele Uchida

On the mathematics courses for social science majors
   Sung-Ock Kim

On Mathematical Contents of Computer Science Contests
   S. O. Shilova and N. V. Shilov

Curriculum for Teaching How Mathematics is Applied to Real World in Teacher Education Course at a Japanese College
   Masahiro Narita

Workshop in Excel
   Deane Arganbright, Erich Neuwirth, and Robert S. Smith